Professional Expertise

Katie Mikula is a specialist with Cushman & Wakefield/Commerce's highly regarded retail team. She represents both landlords and tenants. Her knowledge and understanding of the market make her stand out in the commercial retail arena. Experienced, motivated, smart and creative, Katie demonstrates the energy, dedication and hard work it takes to successfully meet her clients' real estate goals and protect their interests.

Prior to joining Cushman & Wakefield/Commerce, Katie worked with the South Salt Lake Chamber of Commerce, assisting the development of new business initiatives and marketing campaigns. She also gained early experience in the commercial real estate industry as a retail and land assistant, creating marketing packets, compiling demographics and surveying properties.

Katie earned a Bachelor of Science in Urban Planning from the University of Utah, with an emphasis in urban real estate development, geographic information system (GIS), metropolitan and regional planning, land use laws, and transportation planning. Her formal education compliments her professional experience providing her with well-rounded knowledge when serving her clients.

Katie assumed various leadership roles with University organizations, and her listening skills and great attention to detail help her to reach clients' commercial real estate goals. Her skill in assembling site information, competition analysis, demographic profiles and market penetration studies is augmented by her ability to cut through extraneous data and focus on each individual client's requirements.
