Professional Expertise

Craig Boyer is an agent with Cushman & Wakefield Commerce. With over twenty years' experience in commercial real estate, Craig has extensive knowledge and experience, particularly in the sale of small, build-to-suit commercial retail outlets. He has earned several awards in the industry, such as Life Time Member Million Dollar Producer and has served on the Ethics Committee for the Ogden Board of Realtors. Craig knows the importance of building relationships with his clients. Recognizing that tenants, landlords, developers, and investors need not only expertise in a certain field, but the ability to trust and rely on an agent to represent their best interests.

Having been involved in many facets of the real estate industry, Craig has developed a skillful way of negotiating through the maze of items to be negotiated in all transactions. "All parties involved in any transaction shall be satisfied and content with the knowledge that their goals were met and done in a professional manner," Craig has said. "I will provide the ultimate goal for all client relationships, both past and present. His commitment is the basis for all transactions of which he is involved.

Craig has had the pleasure of working with such clients as 7-11 Corp, Sinclair Oil, Warren's Restaurant, and Holrob Properties, D.A.A.U., Western Petroleum. Larus Inc. to name a few.
